WHO IS

Thrash?

Style Ambassador

With only such a short time being in the city of Los Angeles, Stayfly Thrash has made a big splash in the LA fashion scene. He has a love of fashion and putting unique looks together. You will never catch him looking anything less than stellar in his appearance.

Fashion Inspiration

Styling for Stayfly Thrash is a natural talent. He gets his inspiration from everything around him. He has a knack for taking clients and making them comfortable with trying something new all while being able to incorporate their existing sense of style.

Household Name

Since being in Los Angeles, Stayfly Thrash has had great success in styling for celebrities including: Actor, Omari Hardwick for KRAVE Magazine; NFL Star, AJ Green of the Cincinnati Bengals; Actor/Comedian, Tone Bell, Singer, Jonet and Comedian/Actor, Ray Grady. He also styled Prince's "Breakfast Can Wait" video; singer, Ne-Yo for his "Forever Now" video, the music video for British singer, MIKA for his song, "Underwater," and more. Stayfly Thrash has big plans to take his brand and incorporate it in all aspects of the industry, eventually making it a household name. This is just the beginning for him, and he has no plans to slow down anytime soon!

MORE ABOUT THRASH

Stayfly Thrash was born and raised in Georgia, then later moved to Florida where he graduated high school and relocated to Charleston, South Carolina, where he attended college. Not only was this collegiate athlete known for his skills on the football field, but also for his bold, daring sense of style around the city. After college, he proceeded to follow his dream of becoming a celebrity barber by obtaining his barber's license and branding himself as one of the only "fashion forward" barbers in town.

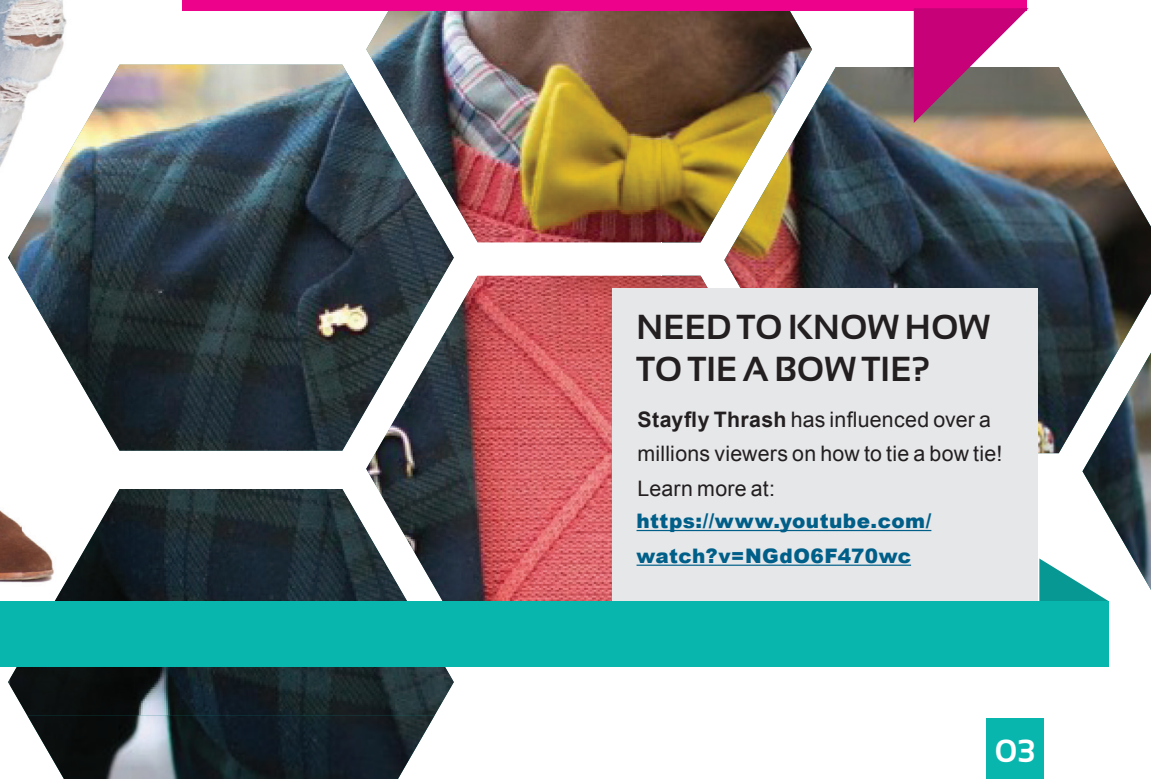

This sense of style that he possessed caught the eye of local photographers and modeling agencies throughout Charleston, which launched him into the modeling industry. While styling himself for personal photo-shoots, he found a new passion for styling others for their shoots as well. Now with all of these accomplishments under his belt, he has moved to Los Angeles California to truly live out his dream of becoming the celebrity barber/fashion stylist he has always wanted to become.
